

Maybe I Should Call

K. Michelle

Long distance in the way of what could be
Even when you're here, you're not with me
She's having the child I should've carried
I'll be damned if yall get married
How's the baby, How you adjusting?
Ain't gon work, you got problems trusting
Let me stop, I'm supposed to be focused
But these nights are the coldest Will you ever let her go? I don't know
Will I ever be first? I hope
But I ain't just sitting around, can't wait for someone to sing my worth
Damn I can't compete with a baby
Is there any room left in your heart for me
I love, I love, I love, I love, I love him
Maybe I should call,
Maybe I should call
I love, I love, I love, I love, I love him
But I never call
Maybe that's my flaw Maybe that's why I ain't got a man
Cause I be doing too much thinking
Tryna compensate for your absence
But no drug can take me where you can
No I just want you where I am
1, 000 of them, just want one him
Drowning in all of my excuses
Heart is feeling useless
Probably should've used it less
Will you ever let her go? I don't know
Will I ever be first? I hope
But I ain't just sitting around, can't wait for someone to sing my worth
Damn I can't compete with a baby
Is there any room left in your heart for me I love, I love, I love, I love, I love him
Maybe I should call,
Maybe I should call
I love, I love, I love, I love, I love him
But I never call
Maybe that's my flaw After the last time we talked
Oh, I was a mess
You had me stressed
Oh no no no no no
I wrote the text, I didn't send it
Dialed your number, but said forget it
Oh, what would it change

She's still in the way
But I love, I love, I love, I love, I love him
Maybe I should call,
Maybe I should call
I love, I love, I love, I love, I love him
But I never call
Maybe that's my flaw
