

How Can You Sleep at Night?

Tom Walker

Tell me you hate me
Just tell me something
Lay it all on the table
'Cause sooner or later, it's back again
I know that I messed up,
No misunderstanding
But, darling, I need you to blame me
'Cause your silence won't make me a better man
You make me a better man
So how can you sleep at night?
Tell me you think I deserve this
Tell me now, what should I do?
'Cause I'm standing paralyzed
You had it so good, I'm just selfish
But I know you're hurting too
Talking at you and there's no reply
Staring at me from the other side
Feels like you're gone
Feels like you're gone
So how can you sleep at night?
Tell if you think it's worthless
Tell me if I'm losing you
I know that you're too proud
To let it go easy
If you got nothing to say
We're just gonna waste all of the good days
So I keep on asking
Though I'm getting nothing
And darling, I've made my mistakes
And I'm begging to pay but you're not listening
I know you're not listening So how can you sleep at night?
Tell me you think I deserve this
Tell me now, what should I do?
'Cause I'm standing paralyzed
You had it so good, I'm just selfish
But I know you're hurting too
Talking at you and there's no reply
Staring at me from the other side
Feels like you're gone
Feels like you're gone
So how can you sleep at night?
Tell if you think it's worthless

Tell me if I'm losing you Talking at you and there's no reply
Staring at me from the other side
Feels like you're gone
Feels like you're gone
So how can you sleep at night?
Tell if you think it's worthless
Tell me if I'm losing you
So how can you sleep at night? Tell me you think I deserve this
Tell me now, what should I do?
Well, how can you sleep at night?
Tell if you think it's worthless
Tell me if I'm losing you
