

Hold Your Colour (Noisia Remix)

Pendulum

Soaking through
Colours that held us up against the wall
Soaking through
Colours that held us up against the wall Hold your colours against the wall,
When they take everything away,
Hold your colours against the wall,
With me Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Soaking through Hold your colours against the wall,
When they take everything away,
Hold your colours against the wall,
With me (Soaking through) Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place) But,
she looked into your eyes,
And saw what lay beneath,
Don't try to save yourself,
The circle is complete,
In reaching out and into you,
Nothing else can touch me
Soaking through Hold your colours against the wall,
When they take everything away,
Hold your colours against the wall,
With me (Soaking through) But, she looked into your eyes,
And saw what lay beneath,
Don't try to save yourself,
The circle is complete Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)

Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)
Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)

Twisted the knife, and opened your eyes (Twisted the knife, til you were in the right place)Fading gently,

Soaking through,

And starting not to show at all

In reaching out and into you, nothing else could touch meHold your colours against the wall,

When they take everything away,

Hold your colours against the wallSoaking throughHold your colours against the wall,

When they take everything away,

Hold your colours against the wall,

With me.
