Hands on the Bible
scared like a child
God holds you liable
for what you've done homicidal
stared down your idols
a pretty baby
never born you can't believe it
you didn't mean it
but they saw you do it
and they know your names rats in the attic toys in the cellar
she's an addict
he wants to learn
hands on the bible
egomaniacal
as you screw yourself into oblivion worn and faded
stoned and jaded
you'll have to face it
on your own
smashed on the pavement stunned in amazement everything you make comes crawling back to you you can't believe it
you didn't mean it
and they know your names so hands on the bible
scared like a child
for what you've done
homicidal
a pretty baby never to be born you can't pretend that you don't know the reasons for the REPENT at your side
hands on the bible
