

The Truth

Moonchild

tired but searching for the answers tying myself down with all I find still purpose circles like a dancer but in my mind my spirit is with the breeze far from the things I used to know wild and free
using the truth to let go serenity rests in me
far from the things I used to know I found the strength to let it show I smile cause I know that it's okay I've got this love to help me slip away far from all the worry that defines you to live in truth the truth is in love in love there's a light the truth is in love there's love where it's right my spirit is with the breeze
far from the things I used to know
