

The Moon Is Falling Down

Crywolf

[Charity Lane]

And I know

That your hands are reaching out for what's to come

Close your eyes

All the waves are coming, crashing all around

Save me, save me

For the audience is gone

And the earth around is shaking

And the moon is falling down

You, you're falling all around me

And the thunder and the lightning consume

You, you're falling all around me

Painting pictures, bleeding colors in the room
