

My Own Eyes

"Weird Al" Yankovic

I saw a baby drive a truck
I saw a junkie eat a tuba
I saw a stripper kiss a duck
Behind a dumpster in Aruba I saw this fat, psychotic guy
His underwear was made of crickets
He pawned a skeleton to buy
Some old expired lotto tickets I saw a naked vagrant giving Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to his cat
I probably could have gone my whole life
Without seeing that
With My Own Eyes
I see things that'd drive a normal man insane
Wish I could disconnect my brain
From My Own Eyes I saw a mime get hacked to death
With an imaginary cleaver
I saw an old man's final breath
I watched him die from Bieber Fever
I saw these diabetic chicks
In an abandoned 7-Eleven
I watched them snorting pixie sticks
While they were belching Stairway To Heaven I saw two drag queens trying to see how many crackers
They could shove up each other's nose
I'd like to erase my mind completely but I suppose
That's just the way it goes
With My Own Eyes
I see things that'd drive a normal man insane
Wish I could disconnect my brain
From My Own Eyes (My Own Eyes)
Those visions haunt my memory
Oh, there's so much I wish I could unsee
With My Own Eyes Some priest got drunk and stole a circus zebra
And he trained it to massage his back
My guinea pig committed hara-kiri
So we used him to play hacky-sack
My neighbor's kids sold weapons-grade plutonium
And frosty ice-cold lemonade
They took MasterCard and sometimes
Human organs in trade, that's how we paid
I have to say that it was really darn good lemonade With My Own Eyes
I've seen thing that'd drive a normal man insane
Wish I could disconnect my brain

From My Own Eyes (My Own Eyes)
Those visions haunt my memory
Oh, there's so much I wish I could unsee
With My Own Eyes
With My Own Eyes
With My Own Eyes
With My Own Eyes
