

What Is Love

En Vogue

There's a question with so many answers
No one knows them all, no
No high powered scholar, high paid by the hour
Could come up with the answers to this complex question
What is love? I gotta know
What is love? I just gotta know
What is love? I gotta know
What is love? Love, love
What is it, what is it?
Love, love
What is it, what is it?
Love, love
What is it, what is it?
How is that we can make mass destruction
With one single bomb?
But can't find a solution to one simple problem
That's troubled us all
Why is it that we can make smart computers
That think for themselves?
But can't make a computer to match lonely people
With one thing in common to fall in love with each other
What is love? I wanna know
What is love? Really gotta know
What is love? I wanna know
What is love? Love, love
What is it, what is it?
Love, love
What is it, what is it?
Love, love
What is it, what is it?
Maybe one day they'll make up a word that sums up love
That won't be so complex and fits in with the rest
But for now we are stuck
With this word and no luck
What is love? I wanna know
What is love? Now somebody tell me so
What is love? I wanna know
What is love? What is love? I want to know
What is love? Somebody, somebody tell me so
What is love? I really wanna know
What is love? I want to know it now, now
Love, love
What is it, what is it?
Love, love
What is it, what is it?
Love, love
What is it, what is it?
