

No Mistakes

Paul Banks

Be great, and no mistakes
Be brave, and show no fear around me
I believe in my eyes and something just fell from the sky
Be great, but know the strength
Be brave and show your teeth with your peace 'Cause one of these days they will destroy this whole fucking town I don't know what will happen next, but I'll wait for you
Things are only half as good since those days
Wish I know in every likelihood I'm insatiable
Guess I'll only know myself again
No mistakes, no mistakes, you must be supremely unleashed Supremely unleashed
I don't know what will happen next, but I'll wait for you Guess I always told myself that I could Know it's only right and good to go straight to you
I'll always be a few away chairs to chat That's right, you caught me untravel
Ease of the night stop me, stop me
Ease away, everybody is on anyone else
Ease from inside, to stuck in everybody That's right, that's right
I don't know what will happen next, but I'll wait for you
Things are only half as good since those days
Knowing every likelihood I'm insatiable
So I'll always be a few pay checks to chance I don't know what will happen next, but I'll wait for you
