Sine From Above

Lady Gaga & Elton John

When I was young, I prayed for lighting
My mother said it would come and find me
I found myself without a prayerI lost my love and no one cared
When I was young, I prayed for lightningYeah, I looked
With my face up to the sky, but I saw nothing there
No, no, nothing there
Yeah, I stared
While my eyes filled up with tears, but there was nothing there
No, no, nothing
I heard one sine from above (Ooh)
I heard one sine from above (Ooh)
Then the signal split in two
The sound created stars like me and you
Before there was love, there was silence
I heard one sine
And it healed my heart, heard a sine
Healed my heart, heard a sine
Healed my heart, heard a sineWhen I was young, I felt immortal
And not a day went by without a struggle
I lived my days just for the nights
I lost myself under the lights
When I was young, I felt immortal
Yeah, I looked
With my face up to the sky, but I saw nothing there
No, no, nothing there
Yeah, I stared
While my eyes filled up with tears, but there was nothing there
No, no, nothingI heard one sine from above (Ooh)
I heard one sine from above (Ooh)
Then the signal split in two
The sound created stars like me and you
Before there was love, there was silence
I heard one sine
And it healed my heart, heard a sineHealed my heart, heard a sine
Healed my heart, heard a sineThen the signal split in two
The sound created stars like me and you
Before there was love, there was silence
I heard one sine
And it healed my heart, heard a sineHealed my heart
Healed my
Heart, heard
Sine

Healed my
Heart, heard a sine
