John Denver & The Muppets

A frosty Christmas Eve, when the stars where shining I traveled for the home, where westward falls the hill And for many, many a village, in the darkness of the valley distant music reached me, peels of bells were ringing. Then spread my thoughts to olden times, to that first of Christmases when shepherds who were watching, heard music in the fields and they sat there and they marveled, and they knew they could not tell whether it were angels, or the bright stars a-singing But to me heard a far, it was starry music the singing of the angels, the comfort of our Lord words of old that come a traveling, by the riches of the times and I softly listened, as I stood upon the hill Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941.
