

All the King's Men

Tom Cochrane

shut ur eyes my darlin theres nothing u can say the man on the moon wont follow u he doesnt live there anyway u dont have to be a soldier to fight in your private war let the blood u might see rain down on me u don have to fight no more theres nothing u can say theres nothing u can send theres nothing that can change the facts
not all the kings men ride upon your stalion and ill ride upon your mare well ride so far, ride so hard far away from here and when we look back upon it it all will become so clear and the gates will open up for us and we wont have no more fear theres nothing u can say
look away, look away
u might seen time and trouble but not today and when they come down upon u i wont let them get anything on u and ill be there for u and all when they want some time
look away, look away
and when they come down upon u
and well dream away all your fears and troubles but, look away we both were motherless children they sent us separate ways and the family u see beat down on u and mine it was OK ive come to take u back now to save u from this fate they wont have anymore chances to treat u this way

theres nothing that can change all that not all the kings men look away, look away u might see time and trouble but not today and when they come down upon u
and well dance away all your fears and troubles but look away look away
