

Renaissance (From "Medici: Masters of Florence")

Paolo Buonvino & Skin

Sometimes I justify the words I spew
Like spitting ambers they spoke and kill
Outside my troubles are colder
But in these eyes the melody smolders
I know the whispers they hurt sometimes
They swell and fracture my view of light
But can't you see the sanity in my epiphany
Let me cure these blackened hearts
Let me show you one last time
Let me show you one last sign
You can find it
I can say that I can change the world
But if you let me
I can make another world for us
Let me suffer all for you
Make this vision all brand new
We can fight them
I can say that I can win it all
Come with me and I will make my world stand tall
Let me do this
Simplicitate cordis quaerite illum quoniam
Invenitur ab his qui non tentant illum
I'm here for all to see
In my bones there's dignity
I will fight them
I can say that I can change the world
But if you let me I can change the world for us
Come with me and
Make this vision all brand new
We can fight them
I can say that I can win it all
Come with me and I will make my world stand tall
Let me do this
I am here
To rejoice
To revenge
To resolve
To be longed for
To be longed for
I am here (If you want this)
To rejoice (If you want this)
To revenge
To resolve
To be longed for

To be longed for
I am here
I am here Sometimes I justify the words I spew
Like secret angels they test your will
Outside my troubles are over
But in your eyes the melody is frozen.
