

Blank

Failure

no conviction in your numb mind a hidden cell of chemicals keep your soul on my projection never turn on the camera because i kinda like the blank way i fill up my life
i don't care for nothing
that gets me too high
i want some dampened spirits
and black and bitter spoons i'm not looking for reflection i'm living on the moon no conviction in your voice box it's buried low beneath the guilt it all seems real as you whisper she lies warm and the smell is you but she knows
you fill up my mind
i'm living on the moon here i am right at home in my crater
here i am feeling old
wishing for a miracle i need you to know that i like the blank way i fill up the sky and i care for nothing you put in my mind i like the blank way
you fill up my mind
i like the blank way
