

Fine Line

Parker Millsap

I been walkin' the fine line
Between the form and the function
Between the gall and the gumption
Between feelin' and touchin' I been walkin' the fine line
Between the thought and the action
Slippin' sideways and traction
As a matter of fact, hon'... You better look out, look out
I'm about to start swervin'
Hey hey hey, I'm on the straight and curvin'
All right, so I might be slightly unnervin'
But honey I don't bite, I'm just a little bloodthirsty
I been walkin' the fine line
Between the feast and the famine
The Leslie Cab and the Hammond
Between the shovin' and the grinnin' Well everybody was jammed
Between the Tag and the Heuer
just chicken shuffling s'curred
In Kansas City, Missouri
Where all the borders get blurry You better look out, look out, look out
I'm about to start swervin'
Hey hey hey, I'm on the straight and curvin'
All right, so I might be slightly unnervin'
But honey I don't bite, I'm just a little bloodthirsty
You better look out, look out, look out
I'm about to start swervin'
Hey hey hey, I'm on the straight and curvin'
All right, so I might be slightly unnervin'
But honey I don't bite, I'm just a little bloodthirsty
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>