

Truce

The Dresden Dolls

You can have Washington I'll take New Jersey
You can have London but I want New York city I should get Providence I've got a job now
Los Angeles - obvious - that's where you belong now You can have Africa, Asia, Australia
As long as you keep your hands off Cafe Pamplona We can split Germany right down the middle You'd hate it there anyway

Take Berlin and we'll call it even You can have all of the carry-on baggage I'll trade the saskia jokes for the alphabet language On special occasions we'll split between parents

Who forced us to hate them on alternating weekends You call it over and I call you psycho Significant other? just say we were lovers!
And we'll call it even, we'll call it even
I am the ground zero ex-friend you ordered
Disguised as a hero to get past your borders
I know when I'm wanted I'll leave if you ask me to Mind my own business and speak when I'm spoken to I am the tower around which you orbited
I am not proud, I am just taking orders
I fall to the ground within hours of impact
I hit back when hit and attack when attacked! You get Route 2 between Concord and Lexington
I want Mass Ave from the square to my apartment And if we should meet through some misunderstanding

I'll be very sweet very patient and forgiving
(Now get off my side of the state) And if we should see one another in passing
Despite these techniques there is sometimes no avoiding (There must be some kind of mistake)

We'll raise high our white flags and bow heads and shake hands
Declaring the land we're on unamerican

We'll call it even I am the tower around which you orbited
I am not proud, I am just taking orders
I fall to the ground within hours of impact
I hit back when hit

And attack if attacked I am an accident waiting to happen
I'm laughing like mad as you strangle the captain
My place may be taken, but make no mistake
From a little black box I can say without shame
That you've lost

Do you know what you've lost? So take whatever you'd like
I'll strike like the States on fire
You won't sleep very tight
No hiding
No safe covers
Make your bed and now lie
Just like you always do

You can fake it for the papers but I'm on to you
I'm on to you, I'm on to you!
