

Broken Bones

Nonpoint

You forget I got this far without you
I'm not the person that you think I am
The life I want to lead needs no approval
From someone who will never understand You're forgetting my broken bones
Forgetting I'm not alone
Hard to stand alone
When this feels like home
In this crowd
Just because you lived a little longer
Doesn't mean your will is any stronger
You forget that all these scars remember
Every time you say I need to change You're forgetting my broken bones
Forgetting I'm not alone
Hard to stand alone
When this feels like home
In this crowd
In this crowd The decisions that we make
Decisions that we make
To stand alone
To stand alone The decisions that we make
Decisions that we make
To stand alone
Forgetting my broken bones
Forgetting I'm not alone
Hard to stand alone
When this feels like home
In this crowd
In this crowd The decisions that we make
Decisions that we make
To stand alone
