

Shake Like You

Corrosion of Conformity

Give it up Beginning of this world swelled with mankind who built a tool to kill a fool and lead the blind invent the rules to keep you down and call it sin then stand behind the wall and watch the games begin seperate by class and keep the middle low instill the order with a border just for show give them weapons and let them have their piece of mind then tip them off so they can kill what's not their kind Watch them shake like you Do it if tales come true and judgment's due they'll call us liars and put us in their hell and set our souls on fire remember sin your only friend he brought you through hallucinate with hate and watch them shake like you Watch them shake like you
Watch them shake like you Watch them shake like you and you Watch them shake like you and you and you
Watch them shake like you
