

Death Blossoms

Rise Against

On dirt like stone
The lions pace, the bones of men
That sought to overthrow are all that remains Oh, what they stole
Was innocence, the slate once clean
Has gone as black as coal
Time and time again Take a look around
The tide is turning upside down
The image of the world
Reflects inside the child's eye
This world
No self-control
No sense of time
No bleeding hearts, no long good-byes
We grow colder every day But is it all a show?
A game we play
Society vice queens, so fucking bored
And so cliché Take a look around
The tide is turning upside down
The image of the world
Reflects inside the child's eye
We eat our own to stay alive Slow and steady now
Slow and steady now
Slow and steady now
Slow and steady now, it's time
Take a look around
The tide is turning upside down
The image of the world
Reflects inside the child's eye
We eat our own to stay alive Around, take a look around
Watch this world reflect
Inside a child's eye
We eat our own to stay alive
