

Woke Up in Japan

5 Seconds of Summer

I woke up in Japan
Feeling low, feeling lonely
The best I ever had
It was more than half empty
I woke up in Japan
Feeling low, feeling lonely
The best I ever had
It was more than half empty
It was more than just a neon weekend
Like slipping through the first wound, cutting
Spreading out like the morning news
From the day before
Falling fast, breathing slow
Time is up, the end is just a dream
Just a dream
I woke up in Japan
Feeling low, feeling lonely
The best I ever had
It was more than half empty
It's enough to let the night let go of me
A few steps into the open doorway
Heard pounding, there's a noise complaint
From room 304
Falling fast, breathing slow
Time is up, the end is just a dream
Just a dream
I woke up in Japan
Feeling low, feeling lonely
The best I ever had
It was more than half empty
I woke up in Japan
Feeling low, feeling lonely
The best I ever had
It was more than half empty
I woke up in Japan, woah
I woke up in Japan, woah
