

Drown Me Out

Andy Black

Another moment breaks, the shadow side of me,
it's like pulling thread untill I fall apart, They say they'll live with this,
song I have to sing, Its the cross that hangs deep below my heart. And when I get the feeling that the damn walls break,

Let the damn walls down,
Nothings gonna drown me,
Nothings gonna drown me out,
From the top of the world to the bottom of the ocean,
Screaming loud, screaming loud from the underground,
Listen now, listen now you're not taking me down,
Nothings gonna drown me
Nothings gonna drown me out.

I feel a violent rage,
washing over me,
I can barely breath,
Bury me alive,
All the tragity,
becomes a symphony,
For the pain I feel in my final goodbye. And when I get the feeling that the damn walls break,

Let the damn walls down,
Nothings gonna drown me,
Nothings gonna drown me out,
From the top of the world to the bottom of the ocean,
Screaming loud, screaming loud from the underground,
Listen now, listen now you're not taking me down,
Nothings gonna drown me
Nothings gonna drown me out.

Rise, rise,
can you hear me now,
rise, rise,
can you see me now,
rise, rise,
can you hear me now,
rise, rise,
can you see me now. And when I get the feeling that the damn walls break,

Let the damn walls down,
Nothings gonna drown me,
Nothings gonna drown me out,
From the top of the world to the bottom of the ocean,

Screaming loud, screaming loud from the underground,
Listen now, listen now you're not taking me down,
Nothings gonna drown me Nothings gonna drown me out. Rise, rise,
can you hear me now,
rise, rise,
nothings gonna drown me,
nothings gonna drown me out.
