

Selling Skeletons

10 Years

Aim high as you look to the sky and Shoot for the stars playing darts in the dark
Lose control as you go for broke
Giving one for the money and two for the show Chasing your tail 'til the brain swells and your heart turns black
Into the void as you search and destroy but
Can you avoid getting lost in the noise?
You're desperately selling skeletons
Until there's nothing left
Everything falls apart
Keep relying on that star
With everyone's eye on the prize
We kiss our loyalty goodbye
It should come as no surprise
When you live and die by rolling the dice
Cut me to the core
For more and more and more
You cut me to the core
For more and more and more
You're desperately selling skeletons
Until there's nothing left of me
Everything falls apart
Keep relying on that star
