Cursed in Eternity

Mayhem

My name was written with fire in the place you only can see when your time has come When you walk down in the land of shadows for eternity

The demon flies in the blackened starless skies and crawls in the bottomless depths of hell

The name which will be a thousand times cursed in eternity

Condemned to wander, until it comes to the cruelest snake that crawls

The demon flies in the blackened starless skies, and crawls in the bottomless depths of hell
