

Gone Forever

From Ashes to New

With all we've been through
I know I'll never miss you
Because you're not who I remember
You're gone It all seemed so perfect
I believed everything was worth it
But you changed, started turning
Into a monster, a different person
Now you keep and hide your demons
And give fake a brand new meaning
You gave me a million reasons
To run, but one was all I needed Now you're nothing but a memory!
So R.I.P to who you used to be!
With all we've been through
I know I'll never miss you
Because you're not who I remember
You're gone forever
What I've been through
Felt like it wasn't with you
Because you're not who I remember
You're gone forever You played games, made excuses
I'm done with all your shit and the truth is
You forced me to do this
Pushed me 'cause you knew I'd lose it
You bend me to where I'm breaking
I should've known you'd try to play me
Every breath is a step I'm taking
A step away from the pain you gave me
Now you're nothing but a memory!
So R.I.P to who you used to be! With all we've been through
I know I'll never miss you
Because you're not who I remember
You're gone forever
What I've been through
Felt like it wasn't with you
Because you're not who I remember
You're gone forever Yeah, gone forever
No coming back
Listen Everything we've been through, I didn't see it in you
With all your fucking issues, I just can't continue
I won't defend you, I won't pretend to Act like I believe 'cause now I read you like a menu
So please get out of my face, you just keep crowding my space

With every inch you take, you push me in a thousand ways
So now I'm counting the days that I've allowed you to stay
Here past your welcome, I'd say about an hour late
With all we've been through
I know I'll never miss you
Because you're not who I remember
You're gone forever
What I've been through
Felt like it wasn't with you
Because you're not who I remember
You're gone forever
You're gone forever
You're gone forever
You're not who I remember
You're gone forever
