

We Don't Need a Hero

Edguy

When you wake up in the fire
And your harbor lies in ruins
You wonder why the giant has been shot
Fired off down from the sky
You plead for explanation
Is it accident or rule
And where is your childhood hero
To drive all the demons away
What if the light
Shines in darkness my friend
And darkness just can't comprehend
So blaze the trail on your own
Go it alone
We are falling - falling to rise
Pain is the guide out of the wastelands
We don't need a hero
We are falling - falling to rise
No charlatan to show you the light
We don't need a hero
Indignity is the leader
To escort us to fen
Where they say the light is endemic
If only I could comprehend
Now you're old enough to face it
Rabble's stones give pain
Hit you as they watch your tracks
Apart from the way that they understand
What if the light
Shines in darkness my friend
And darkness just can't comprehend
So blaze the trail on your own
Go it alone
We are falling - falling to rise
Pain is the guide out of the wastelands
We don't need a hero
We are falling - falling to rise
No charlatan to show you the light
We don't need a hero
Oh we don't need a hero
No we don't need a hero

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>