Don't Look Now (feat. Keri Hilson)

Far East Movement & Keri Hilson

Don't look nowI saw you dancing on that speaker box Girl, what's your name? I see you texting on that BBM Can we exchange? I got two glasses at my table Can I show you the way? Tonight's the night to let it go, go Girl, it's okayYeah, I'm not looking for no strings You're not looking for a ring If you're ready for this fling Then meet me in the back I never knew it'd be like this Such an unexpected twist Started off with just a kiss I don't know how to actHey, uh, I know I promised you I'd take it slow I know I swore on everything I own But I can't resist, how's just one kiss? But don't look nowYou've got me going, I'm going, I'm gone Don't look now You've got me going, I'm going, I'm gone Don't look now I can't resist, how's just one kiss? Don't look nowMy heart is pumping Like that bass before I pick you up The way we stole each other's hearts We playing stick 'em up I take a shot of [Incomprehensible] To get me in the zone now She took a step out the door From head to toe she's all wowI'm not looking for no strings You're not looking for a ring If you're ready for this fling Then meet me in the backI never knew it'd be like this Such an unexpected twist Started off with just a kiss I don't know how to actHey, uh, I know I promised you I'd take it slow I know I swore on everything I own But I can't resist, how's just one kiss? But don't look nowYou've got me going, I'm going, I'm gone Don't look now You've got me going, I'm going, I'm gone Don't look now I can't resist, how's just one kiss?
