

Boy Tell the World (Parody of "Joy to the World")

ApologetiX

Jeremiah loved the true God
Was a good friend of mine
I never edited a single word he said
But I helped him ink his lines
And he always had me write 'em down twice, singin' Boy, tell the world
All my voice enfurls now
Boy, tell them visions that they need to see
Going to you from me If I were the king in the wall
I'll tell you what I'd do
I'd throw away those little false gods, end the war
And make peace it's up to you (Sing it now)
Boy, tell the world
Ah, they're going to quarrel now
Boy, tell them issues that they need to see
Boy, it's you and me You know I'm not courageous
I'd love to have more fire
I'm no high-priced scribe or
Any paid ghost writer
My name's Baruch, the son of Neriah
The main dude it was Jeremiah Boy, tell the world
Ah, the choice is theirs now
Boy, tell them this is it, believe you me
Boy, it's true indeed
Boy, tell the world
All my voice enfurls
Boy, it's you and me
Boy, tell the world
Boy, tell the world
Boy, it's true indeed
Ah, the choice is theirs now
Boy, tell them this is it, believe you me
Boy, it's true indeed
