

Love Song

IV JAY

I never wrote a love song
I wish that I could write one
But everytime I try, they be acting childish I hope I find the right one I never wrote a love song
Is there something that I did wrong
'Cause I ain't never felt it
I never felt it

Boy, tell me you're the right one
Tell me you're the right one
Tell me you're the right one
Wanna feel it in my chest
Wanna hear the siren
Is you really 'bout it
Is you really riding
Do I gotta worry about the secrets that you hidin'
Do you got a side chick?
I can tell by your expressions that you used to lyin'
Do you think I mind this
I said, do you think I mind this Swear I've heard it all before
Said how much you've waited for
Vibes don't lie, I'm never wrong
I'm so used to moving on

On

I never wrote a love song
I wish that I could write one
But everytime I try, they be acting childish
I hope I find the right one I never wrote a love song
Is there something that I did wrong
'Cause I ain't never felt it
I never felt it
Boy, tell me you're the right one Tell me you're the right one
Tell me you're the right one
Could you really blame me
If I'm acting crazy
I don't understand it
I cannot deny it
Write my heart on paper for you, but can never write it Need something that's timeless (timeless)
A love that's built for one then
I don't wanna rush
And I'll know it when I find it
I said I'll know it when I find it Swear I've heard it all before
Said how much you've waited for
Vibes don't lie, I'm never wrong

I'm so used to moving on I never wrote a love song
I wish that I could write one
But everytime I try, they be acting childish
I hope I find the right one I never wrote a love song
Is there something that I did wrong
Cause I ain't never felt it
I never felt it
Boy tell me you're the right one (you're the right one) Love, love, love, love song
Did, did, did, did wrong
Love, love, love, love song
Did, did, did, did wrong
