

Hurricane

Honor Society

There was a thread of love
I didnt think itll come What was I thinking of I dont know,
I was good on my own
Then I threw caution to the wind When I decide to let you in I fell so hard, so fast Im seeing stars, they lead us through the dark Now it's gone and clouds are forming everybody tried to warned me but I didn't listen to what they said()
Now that the rain is falling
I should've seen it coming
I cant believe youre walking
walking away, away
You left me in this hurricane I wanted so badly to believe that you would brave the storm with me fair weathered friends got enough of them thought you'd be here for meNow my eyes have started pouring In my heart its dark and stormy and it wont stop cause you wrecked all of me
Now that the rain is falling
I should've seen it coming
I cant believe youre walking
walking away, away
You left me in this hurricane Now it's gone and clouds are forming everybody tried to warned me but I didn't listen to what they saidNow that the rain is falling
I should've seen it coming
I cant believe youre walking
walking away, away
You left me in this hurricane
