Void In My Life

Chamillionaire

When I look back at my life
I realize, realize something ain't right
I'm missing You Lord, in my life make it rightI got something to decide
Just wanna make, wanna make everything right
'Cause there's a huge void

A huge void in my life make it rightI'm staring up at the Pope, it soak it up while he spoke it Mesmerized and repeated, like he the author that wrote it

The broads are the ones I love just don't wanna be the corporate So waiting for death to approach this take the time to say no sisI don't hate ya, for having these little seeds

At 17, best believe they're a beautiful breeze
Of fresh air when their's nothing else I usually need
Just a smile look at 'em now hoping you just believe
And my broad been in place forever I'm gone but I'm chasing cheddar
Been gone could of kept it going with a poem or a basic letter
But naw I just hate to tell her try hard but I didn't let her
The groupies get at your boy but you're my CinderellaLook girl we can make it better but there's a gift and a curse

While you healing a nigga feelings, yours are usually hurt
It ain't amount of cash on earth to match what you really worth
Know your turf has been the church that's where you put in workAnd you put in overtime because you know the sign

And most danger that I've been lately rap is mo' than rhymes
But you still hold me down I'ma do way mo' this time Got some time that I need to manage girl you know that's rightAnd that's speaken like a true deacon 'cause even to see you sleeping

That comfortably ain't enough for me anything that you needing I'll cease anything that squeaks and cease any sink that leaks Ain't nothing gon' interrupt, your sleep deep into them sheets and peep When I look back at my life

I realize, realize something ain't right I'm missing You Lord, in my life make it rightI got something to decide

Just wanna make, wanna make everything right

'Cause there's a huge void

A huge void in my life make it rightHow your father call the police, have your mama put in the jail

When the arguments always started and ended up in a cell
Hard to it was the thought of this ring that you use to wear
As I darted out the apartment and pawned it to get the bailArgument after argument drama wasn't hitting well

Target it ain't no harm in it smart so I didn't tell God that it was the hardest yeah life was a living hell Spent part of it steady dodging it charging off in the trailsFather say he a Muslim your mama say she a Christian

The Bible or the Koran which one would you be picking

The cards are in your palm ain't really no use in tripping

Be true to the one you choose ain't really no use in switching Yeah they gon' have to be mad at us choice is something I had to trust

Standing up 'cause I had enough for my blessings not adding up

Take too many things for granted right after that metal gedal bust

Somebody's life is missing that's when the spirit grabbing usWhen I look back at my life I realize, realize something ain't right

I'm missing You Lord, in my life make it rightI got something to decide Just wanna make, wanna make everything right

'Cause there's a huge void

A huge void in my life make it rightA religion is what you missing someone tell me how can it Make people panic mention God and all the weak people vanish

Take God your woman and your family even your own life for granted

Until you slanted on the planet with your face in the graniteAnd I won't have it I don't wanna see my coaching divided

So I decided to remind it there's a choice and provide it

So put your ego to the side soon as you standing beside it

Raise your right hand and let the spirit know it's invitedDon't need to fight it I just wanna make it right 'fore they bury me

'Cause the truth is like therapy plus my conscience is tearing me

Into pieces as deadly was dealt was not even fair to me

To the soldiers that passed in the game we missing you terriblyThank my family especially in my mind like telepathy

Staying humbles the recipe keep my faith and he blessing me

I use the energy left in me to make sure they respecting me

Walk the steps of my destiny like I know he protecting meI'm a leader believe the people won't get to see less of me

No they won't see the death of me or no police arresting me

I live life so successfully and just show 'em the best of me

On another level mentally this position was meant for meWhen I look back at my life I realize, realize something ain't right

I'm missing you Lord, in my life make it right got something to decide

A huge void in my life make it right, my lifeChamillitary Mayne
