One Sweet Love

Sara Bareilles

Just about the time the shadows call I undress my mind and dare you to follow Paint a portrait of my mystery Only close my eyes and you are here with me A nameless face to think I see To sit and watch the waves with me till they're gone A heart I'd swear I'd recognize is Made out of my own devices... could I be wrong?Time that I've taken Pray is not wastedHave I already tasted my piece of One sweet love? Sleepless nights you creep inside of me Paint your shadows on the breath that we share You take more than just my sanity Take my reason not to care. No ordinary wings I'll need The sky itself will carry me back to you Things I dream that I can doI'll open up the moon for you Just come down soonTime that I've taken Pray is not wastedHave I already tasted my piece ofOne sweet love? Ready and waiting For a heart worth the breaking I'd settle for an honest mistake in the name ofOne sweet love. Savor the sorrow to soften the pain Sip on the southern rain, as I do I don't look don't touch don't do anything But hope that there is a you. The earth that is the space between I'd banish it from under me... to get to you. An unexpected love provides My solitary's suicide... oh I wish I knew Time that I've taken Pray is not wasted Have I already tasted my piece of One sweet love? Ready and waiting For a heart worth the breaking But I'd settle for an honest mistake in the name of One sweet love. One sweet love Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941.
