

Neverenders

frnkiero and the cellabration

Everybody's got something to say about your life and choice you made.
they see the world through tired eyes, and we refuse to live in black and white.
but i'm not on anyone's side.
feel free to count me out.
i don't believe in anything.
i'm so sick of everything.

everybody's got something to say, and then they wonder why you run away.
they're trying hard to steal your innocence, and fill your head with their ignorance.
the truth is i'm just fucking existing.
the truth is i'm just trying to survive.
the truth is i got a problem listening.
the truth is i'm getting by.

everybody's got a fucking scheme, to steal our hearts right from off our sleeves.
but i'm at peace with who i am, and i'm at war in my own head.
i'm not unlike you, i just dislike you.
i'm not pathetic, just sympathetic.

everybody's got something to say, so concerned with the life i've made.
you wear us down with your fear and hate.
i'm unimpressed but i'm getting weak.
the truth is i'm just fucking existing.
the truth is i got the will to survive.
the truth is i got a problem coping.
the truth is we'll all be fine.
enough is enough.
i give up.

we live our lives in our own way.
i feel sorry for the choice you made.
i'm not pathetic, just sympathetic.
i'm not pathetic, just empathetic.

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>