

Strength of a Woman

Shaggy

Uh, wow, uh, hm, ya, SHAGGY!
Uh, yeah. This one goes out to all my women, my strong women,
Uh. So amazing how this world was made,
I wonder if God is a woman.
The gift of life astounds me to this day,
I give it up for the woman.
She's the constant wind that fills my sails,
Oh, that woman.
With a smile and a style,
She'll protect you like a child, that's a woman.
She'll put a smile upon your face,
and take you to that higher place,
So don't you underestimate,
the strength of a woman.
The strength of a woman. Woke up this morning, got up with the scent of a woman.
So picture if you would what life would be,
... ain't much good without a woman. She can nag and be a constant pain,
oh, that woman.
But those hips,
she's got me whipped,
And it's just too hard to resist, what a woman.
She'll put a smile upon your face,
and take you to a higher place,
So don't you underestimate,
the strength of a woman.
The strength of a woman. Tender lips that's so so sweet, Gentle words she softly speaks,
Such an angel when we meet,
God bless the ground beneath her feet,
She can take you on a high,
be your comfort when you cry,
But if you look into her eyes you'll see,
The strength of a woman.
The strength of a woman. She'll put a smile upon your face,
and take you to a higher place,
So don't you underestimate,
the strength of a woman.

The strength of a woman.
