CeCe Winans

Open my eyes o' Lord,
Help me to keep them towards You
No one but You Take up the time I waste
Help me to fill that space with You
Nothing but You I ask for less of all the rest
I just want more and more of You
Cause You are so much more amazing
And You get more and more amazing
Sweeter than the day before
You leave me wanting more
I need more
Powers and earthly qualms
All of them must come down for You
All Glory goes to You
All Glory goes to You I finally feel it now
You lift me up when I bow to You
No one but You Blessed are the ones who hunger
And thirst for righteousness
Quench me now my spirit is
Forever Yours to bless So, less of all the rest
I just want more and more of You
Cause You are so much more amazing And You get more and more amazing
Sweeter than the day before
You leave me wanting more
I need more
Tell me what can this world give me
That's greater than Your love
Nothing else compares to the joy
I have every day in You Give me less of all the rest
I just want more and more of You
Cause you are so much more amazing
And you get more and more amazing
Sweeter than the day before
You leave me wanting more
I need more Less of all the rest
I just want more and more of You
Cause You are so much more amazing
And You get more and more amazing
Sweeter than the day before
You leave me wanting more
I need more More, more
Cause You are so much more amazing

And You get more and more amazing
