

Amnesia (feat. Mark Agustin & Erin Renee)

Moog

I know you've waited, so long
Time and time again all you say is that I did,
You wrong
So you turned your back on the world pretending to,
Be strong
But your crying deep inside
Your still hurting from the lies and I'm the man you despise
Now you put up a wall
Now you act like you don't know me at all
Every time you see me no it's not the same
Brand new you but the feelings ain't changed
You still me you together
Or should I let go of it or ignore me for every word
Or every moment that you made me smile
Can I just see you and stay for a while
I'm trying to find who we were
Before the lies and the hurt
So take me back to this time
Amnesia I've finally woken up to a reality without you
But it was never even your time to begin with
But somehow you saw something in me
And all these souls in the world roaming free
In my arms you cried
And I'm the only reason why
You are afraid to love again
Because you compare me to every guy
That dates you, I hate you
You left me and it hurt you
You lied to me cause i lied to you
It was my fault do what I had to do
Cause you deserve much more than I gave to ya
I wanna stay I wanna wait for ya
Lemme rid of all the pain for ya
It ain't really all gone let the hurt fade away and bring back what we made
I'm trying to find who we were
Before the lies and the hurt
So take me back to this time
Amnesia Amnesia...
Amnesia... I was yo man
You were my queen
I know to this day you are thinking of me
I was so heartless I am ashamed I know that it's me that could stop all the pain

Never had closure we never spoke since your love was true
Now that I know this I regret everything I made you cry
Baby don't fight it let me re-write it
