

$4,000,000 (feat. Ma$e & Big Gigantic)

Steve Aoki & Bad Royale

Somebody sure got a birthday, somebody gon' turn eighteen
Somebody just turned twenty-one, you know what that means
You know what that means, you know, you know
You could have whatever you want
You can do whatever you want
Somebody sure got a birthday, somebody gon' turn eighteen
Somebody gon' turned twenty-one, you know what that means
You know what that means, you know, you know
You know what that means I'm too rich for these young niggas
Too slick for these old hoes
Chick says she mine though
My Snapchat says she not though
Four million on gold chains
Ten million on bottles
They ain't never get this live, though
Shit, Ma$e hit the lotto
About four million in gold chains, 'bout ten million in bottles
They ain't never get this live, though
This live, this live, this live, this live Penthouse to the helicopter to the plane to the Rolls
To the elevator, to the floor until you say you can't take it no more You know what that means
You know what that means, you know, you know, know
You could have whatever you want
Twenty-one, you know what that means You know I'm no stoopy for cutie
You know that her booty be super like Sonic
You know it's ironic, I'm hot as the climate
Flow has been tarnished, I glow like a diamond
And can I be honest? My gin has no tonic
I treat it like legend
But I been iconic, now back to chronic
Back to the numb in the boat
Back to the murder we know
About four million in gold chains, 'bout ten million in bottles
They ain't never get this live, though
This live, this live, this live, this live Four million in gold chains, four, four million in gold chains
'Bout four million in gold chains, 'bout ten million in bottles
They ain't never get this live, though
They ain't never get this live, though
They ain't never get this live, though
They ain't never get this live, though
