You, answer for you
And when I see you there, I know it's true
You, answer for you
I need to know if you can feel the same as I do You are always thirsty for the loving
Making me feel like I'm not worth something
While you playing this like I'm a fool
Knowing full well that I want you
Now that's just cruel
And you know it's true
We have been through too much for you to let go
To let go
Tell me how you feel and we can take it slow
Take it slow
Once again
Take it slow
Once again
Take it slow
Once again
Take it slow
Once again
Take it slow
Once again
Once again Once again Once again Once again
You, answer for you
And when I see you there, I know it's true
Once again
You, answer for you
I need to know if you can feel the same as I do
Once again You are always thirsty for the loving
Making me feel like I'm not worth something
While you playing this like I'm a fool
Knowing full well that I want you
Now that's just cruel
And you know it's true Once again We have been through too much for you to let go
To let go
Tell me how you feel and we can take it slow
Take it slow Once again
Once again
Once again
Once again You are always thirsty for the loving
Once again
Making me feel like I'm not worth something
Once again
While you playing this like I'm a fool
Knowing full well that I want you

Now that's just cruel
And you know it's true Once again Once again Once again Once again You are always thirsty for the loving
Making me feel like I'm not worth something
Knowing full well that I want you
And you know it's true We have been through too much for you to let go
To let go
Tell me how you feel and we can take it slow
Take it slow Once again Once again Once again Once again Once again Once again Once again Once again Once again Once again Once again Once again
