

Remember You Young

Thomas Rhett

Hey, buddies that I grew up with
All straight-laced and married up now
You ain't fooling me, wasn't long ago We tore the roof off that one red light town
And hey, darling, sipping that red wine
All classy, kicked back on the couch
You smile and I see ya shootin' tequila
Us shutting them college bars down And no matter how much time goes by
And no matter how much we grow up
For worse or for better, from now 'til forever
I'll always remember you young
And hey, babies, crawling on the carpet
No, you won't be that little for long
One day, you'll move away, but you're still gonna stay
This innocent after you're gone 'Cause no matter how much time goes by
And no matter how much we grow up
For worse or for better, from now 'til forever
I'll always remember you young Whoa-oh-oh, whoa-oh-oh
Whoa-oh-oh, oh, oh Yeah, I hope when we get to Heaven
He looks at us all like we're kids
Shameless and painless and perfect and anxious
Forgives all the wrong that we did
And no matter how much time goes by
I know we'll never have to grow up
We'll say for worse or for better, from now 'til forever
I'll always remember you young Whoa-oh-oh, oh
I'll always remember you young
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>