

Daughters of the Soho Riots

The National

I have your good clothes in the car
So cut your hair so no one knows
I have your dreams and your teethmarks
And all my fingernails are painted I'm here to take you now
You were right about the end
It didn't make a difference
Everything I can remember
I remember wrong How can anybody know
How they got to be this way
You must have known
I'd do this someday
Break my arms around the one I love
And be forgiven by the time my lover comes
Break my arms around my love
Break my arms around the one I love
And be forgiven by the time my lover comes
Break my arms around my love I don't have any questions
I don't think it's gonna rain
You were right about the end
It didn't make a difference I'm here to take you now
Out among the missing sons and daughters of the Soho riots
Out among the missing sons and daughters of the Soho riots
I'm here to take you now How can anybody know
How they got to be this way
You must have known
I'd do this someday
Break my arms around the one I love
And be forgiven by the time my lover comes
Break my arms around my love
Break my arms around the one I love
And be forgiven by the time my lover comes
Break my arms around my love Break my arms around the one I love

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>