Bottle To the Bottom (feat. Kris Kristofferson)

Dierks Bentley

You ask me if I'm happy now That's good as any joke I've heard It seems since I've seen you last I done forget the meaning of the words If happiness is empty rooms And drinkin' in the afternoon Well I guess I'm as happy as a clam But if it's got a thing to do With smilin' or forgettin' you Well I don't guess that I could say I am Did you ever see a down and outer waking up alone Without a blanket on to keep him from the dew When the water from the weeds had soaked the papers He'd been puttin' in his shoes to keep the ground from comin' though And his future feels as empty as the pockets in his pants Because he's never seen a single dream come true That's the way that I've been feelin' since the day I started falling From the bottle to the bottom stool by stool Learnin' hard to live with losin' youYou wonder if I'm better off With freedom now to do the things I choose Well all my times my own and I've got nothin' left but sleepin' time to lose There's no one here to carry on If I stay out the whole night long Or give a tinkers damn if I don't call I'm livin' like I wanted to And doin' things I wanna do And nothin' means a thing to me at all Did you ever see a down and outer waking up alone Without a blanket on to keep him from the dew When the water from the weeds had soaked the papers He'd been puttin' in his shoes to keep the ground from comin' though And his future feels as empty as the pockets in his pants Because he's never seen a single dream come true That's the way that I've been feelin' since the day I started falling From the bottle to the bottom stool by stool Learnin' hard to live with losin' you Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/