

Call My Name

Joe Bataan

Before the setting sun and I'll appear
And know that I'm the one who will appear We are gathered here today
To remember the departed and have a final say
But don't believe you've seen the last of this face
I'm only missing, not gone without a trace
The time for me to rise again is near, so... Before the setting sun and I'll appear
And know that I'm the one who will appear My lines crossed their streets of gold
So they tried to have me buried all those years ago
But my people wouldn't let me die
I'll keep surviving by the power of their minds
There's just one thing I need to hear
All you gotta do...
Before the setting sun and I'll appear
And know that I'm the one who will appear

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>