I Can See (feat. Ben Westbeech)

Jazzanova

Silently suffering
Hidden by an incidental smile
Holding on for something else
To come along and make my life worthwhile
'Till it comes

I'm going to be okay

Slowly waiting for the end of days

Every night I'm gonna be alright

The demons come and take care of my prideI can see in your eyes

That what's coming aint a big surprise

I can see, oh, in your eyes

That what's coming aint a big surprise

Over time

People change

Slowly their wealth will rearrange

All the while

I keep holding on

Trying to find the will to carry onI can see in your eyes

That what's coming aint a big surprise

I can see, oh, in your eyes

That what's coming aint a big surpriseI just want to know

Please, just let me know

I want to know

I'll do anything for you girl

Slowly nothing taking soul

I just don't want to lose control

Life is green

Alone for me

Ever since you walked right through the dark

Please believe there is no change

Brought you said you had it all beforeI can see in your eyes

That what's coming aint a big surprise

I can see, oh, in your eyes

That what's coming aint a big surpriseI can see in your eyes

That what's coming aint a big surprise

I can see, oh, in your eyes
