Black John

Stone Sour

I find myself in wicked crest
I'm such a shitty mess
I'll catch my baited breath and lose my fucking mind
Called before the killer man
You need to understand
Psychopaths and sycophants are not a waste of time!But all I know

Is heroes come and villains go
Just give the lunatic a chance

And all I know

Is something out is something old I'll never win, I'm just a man

But I don't care

The deadly frost is in the green

You don't know what I mean

You'll find the Benzedrine can throw you off the edge

Who needs a therapist?

Too bad I'm not convinced

God. I'm sick of this

Just save yourself or I'll be damnedAll I know

Is heroes come and villains go

Just give the lunatic a chance

And all I know

Is something out is something old

I'll never win, I'm just a man

The Conflagration isn't yours!

Your bible is a war

Once we've broken through

There's nothing to protect

Futile bullets make you weak-

Your tremors can't compete

The Human's obsolete

Whether you have livedAll I know

Is heroes come and villains go

Just give the lunatic a chance

And all I know

Is something out is something old

I'll never win, I'm just a manAll I know

Is every way you come and go

There's nothing new to understand

All I know

Is nowhere's safe and no one's home I'll never win, I'm just a man

But I don't care Black John is always there! Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/