

Awkward Groove

Domo Genesis

Yeah, yeah

Yeah, yeah

Oh, no

I mean really what am I to do?

Okay, these words to my momma, I promised to not to lose

A born sinner, still playing like I forgot the moves

Dancing to this drum in my heart, this is such an awkward groove

No fam, really niggas ain't ready they sleep

While they wake I play that crickets, send out some blessings from me

No more stressing baby we don't smoke nothing less then a G

A hundred grand, a million dollar mind state

A couple goons on call, in case they got to boost the crime rate

America ain't never really tell me how that pot tastes

I'm looking for my destiny, take me on a blind date

Six figures making sure my mom's straight

Whole clique stepping out on point looks like it's prom date

Came a long way from getting paid doing that not say

Invested in my motherfucking self and now my stock raised

Knowing niggas steady getting guap, say

Look at me now

I got knowledge for every dollar made, so look at me now

I ain't scared of none of my flaws, that got 'em sof me now

So if you ever had a doubt about it, it shouldn't be now (Nah)

I got 'em sof me now

So if you ever had a doubt about it, it shouldn't be now

I can't keep sitting here waiting around

Sink my feet under the ground

Keep my head under the clouds

You got to be lost where you found

I can't keep sitting here waiting around

Sink my feet under the ground

Keep my head under the clouds

You got to be lost where you foundMhhh Yeah
