Avail

should have left that attitude back at home
center of attention
through tension
begging for respect
through the unsaid resorting to disruption when you hate something should have left that attitude
back at home
striving to dominate
to feel safe showing your strength to the unknown
you probably won't quit when you hurt someone what the hell are you fighting for?
I hope it's something that you really believe in because someone got a fist in their face because you're feeling weak and your causing all these problems that nobody needs don't forget that you're all alone you've got no good reason it's just an attitude
