

Let Them See You

Colton Dixon

Take away the melodies
Take away the songs I sing
Take away all the lights
And all the songs You let me write
Does the man I am today
Say the words You need to say Let them see You

In me

Let them hear You

When I speak

Let them feel You

When I sing

Let them see You

Let them see You

In me

Who am I without Your grace
Another smile, another face
Another breath, a grain of sand
Passing quickly through Your hand
I'd give my life, I'm not afraid
Take it all, take everything Let them see You

In me

Let them hear You

When I speak

Let them feel You

When I sing

Let them see You

Let them see You

In me

With every breath I breathe
I sing a simple melody
But I pray they'll hear more than a song
In me, in me Let them see You

In me

Let them hear You

When I speak

Let them feel You

When I sing

Let them see You Oh, let them see You

In me

Let them hear You

When I speak

Let them feel You

When I sing
Let them see You
Just let them see You in me
Let them see You
