

Slumber

NEEDTOBREATHE

Days they force you
Back under those covers
Lazy mornings they multiply
Glory's waiting outside your window
Wake on up from your slumber
Baby, open up your eyes Tongues are violent
Personal and focused
Tough to beat with your steady mind
Hearts are stronger after broken
So wake on up from your slumber
Baby, open up your eyes
All these victims stand in line for
The crumbs that fall from the table
Just enough to get by
All the while your invitations
Wake on up from your slumber
Baby, open up your eyes Take from vandals all you want now
Please don't trade it in for life
Replace your feeble with the fable
Wake on up from your slumber
Baby, open up your eyes All these victims stand in line for
The crumbs that fall from the table
Just enough to get by
All the while your invitation
Wake on up from your slumber
Baby, open up your eyes
C'mon sing like we used to Dance when you want to
Taste of the breakthrough
And open wide All these victims stand in line for
The crumbs that fall from the table
Just enough to get by
All the while your invitation
Wake on up from your slumber
Baby, open up your eyes Sing like we used to Dance like you want to
C'mon darlin' open up your eyes
