

Radio Song

Jimmie's Chicken Shack

you've got the ugliest shoes i've ever seen you've got the nicest car i've ever run into and after all that we've been through we're still having fun and akin to life when we're on the run i got the best radio station playing in my head i got the best radio station playing in my head got the best radio station and it's in my head i got two channels in on my tv i got a mended heart that you broke into three not being all we can be but we still hang around we might miss you but we're not losing ground might get easy if we just went away but we live here still sometimes we just don't know why we stay i got the best radio station in my head got good communication and it's in my head i got your radio station playing in my head got good communication and it's in my head we're so down that you might need a shovel if you expect one thing shouldn't go to the trouble 'cause you can't dig deep enough into your own skin always look around but never searching within i got your radio station playing in my head got good communication and it's in my head
i got your radio station playing in my head got good communication and it's in my head we'll take directions from the radio god today she'll play the songs that say what nobody else can say i know it's coming but just please don't play that song another signal to her everything's gone wrong
i like the conversations when we're in my bed
got good communication and it's in my head
i like the conversations when we're in my bed got good communication and it's in my head and you're the softest brick wall i've ever run into a bedspread pillows and scars after all we've been we're through i like the conversations when we're in my bed got good communication and it's in my head
i got your radio station playing in my head
got good communication and it's in my head
