

Standing Here

Lindsay Ell

Let the truth be cold
Let the tail lights fade
Let the end begin
Baby I can take it Let the silence speak
Let the knife go deep I know that it's hard
Baby start with I'm sorry
It is what it is it ain't easy
If you don't wanna hurt me
Have a little mercy
Quit trying to tell me you're fine
Waiting around for the right time
It's never the right time
To tell me it's over
It's already over
You don't love me anymore
You already know Your heart's at the door just follow it slam it (?)
What are you still standing here for? If you're waiting on me
To make the first move
And letting you off of the hook
Boy it's your book to close
And if you gotta go...
I know that it's hard
Baby start with I'm sorry
It is what it is it ain't easy
If you don't wanna hurt me
Have a little mercy Quit trying to tell me you're fine
Waiting around for the right time
It's never the right time
To tell me it's over
It's already over
You don't love me anymore
You already know Your heart's at the door just follow it slam it (?)
What are you still standing here for? Let the silence speak
Let the knife go deep I know that it's hard
Baby start with I'm sorry
It is what it is it ain't easy
If you don't wanna hurt me
Have a little mercy Quit trying to tell me you're fine
Waiting around for the right time
It's never the right time
To tell me it's over
It's already over

You don't love me anymore
You already know Your heart's at the door just follow it slam it (?)
What are you still standing here for?
