

Memory

Silver

Every line on my face is from trying to erase her memory
Even though she's gone, she's lingering on in my memory
With her strength to guide me, the world was my own
Now my spirit is broken, my dreams have turned to stone
And just when my day begins going alright, I wake calling her name alone in the night
Chorus:
Cause every line in my face are from trying to erase her memory
Even though she's gone, she's lingering on in my memory
Cause every line in my face are from trying to erase her memory
Even though she's gone, she's lingering on in my memory
Her image inside me brings back all the years
That she needed and held me and shared all my fears
Echoes of laughter remain in the air
I stare into the fire, pretending she's there
Chorus
They say the pain lessens as time passes by
I swear to myself I'm not going to cry
But the tears keep on coming; I'm running and running
The tears keep on coming and I'm running and running from her memory
Chorus- twice over
Ahhh, in my memory
Ahhh, in my memory
Ahhh, in my memory
